

• For high-ticket service businesses

AI Growth Operator

We install AI growth operators for service businesses.

It gets you found in AI search, researches and contacts the right prospects, follows up, and keeps your CRM alive — inside the tools you already use.

● The business problem

Your best customers research you first — and quietly get lost on the way.

01 · DISCOVERY

AI search

Buyers now ask ChatGPT and Perplexity who to trust. If an assistant can't cite you, you never make the shortlist.

Not recommended

02 · INQUIRY

Forms & WhatsApp

Messages arrive at all hours, often in two languages, while the team is busy serving clients.

Slow first reply

03 · FOLLOW-UP

Qualification

Qualifying and following up are still manual, so warm leads cool off before anyone calls back.

No follow-up

04 · PIPELINE

CRM

Records go stale, ownership gets fuzzy, and good opportunities age out without anyone noticing.

Stale pipeline

The trap

Buying another dashboard doesn't close this gap.

The opportunity

Run it as one operating loop:

Discovery → Conversation → CRM → Follow-up → Measurement

- What you are buying

We don't sell another CRM. We install an operator.

CRM software sells

Software

A system you configure for months — consultants, integrations, imports, training, maintenance.

⚠ Months later, maybe it works.

Marketing platforms sell

Features

CRM, email, forms and chat in one place. Useful — but your team still has to create the demand.

⚠ It never says “I found three companies that need you.”

Most agencies sell

Traffic

SEO or ads that end at a visit or a lead. What happens after the click is still your problem.

⚠ They stop exactly where the money starts.

We sell

Outcomes

An operator that works inside the tools you already use and carries every opportunity from first search to signed contract.

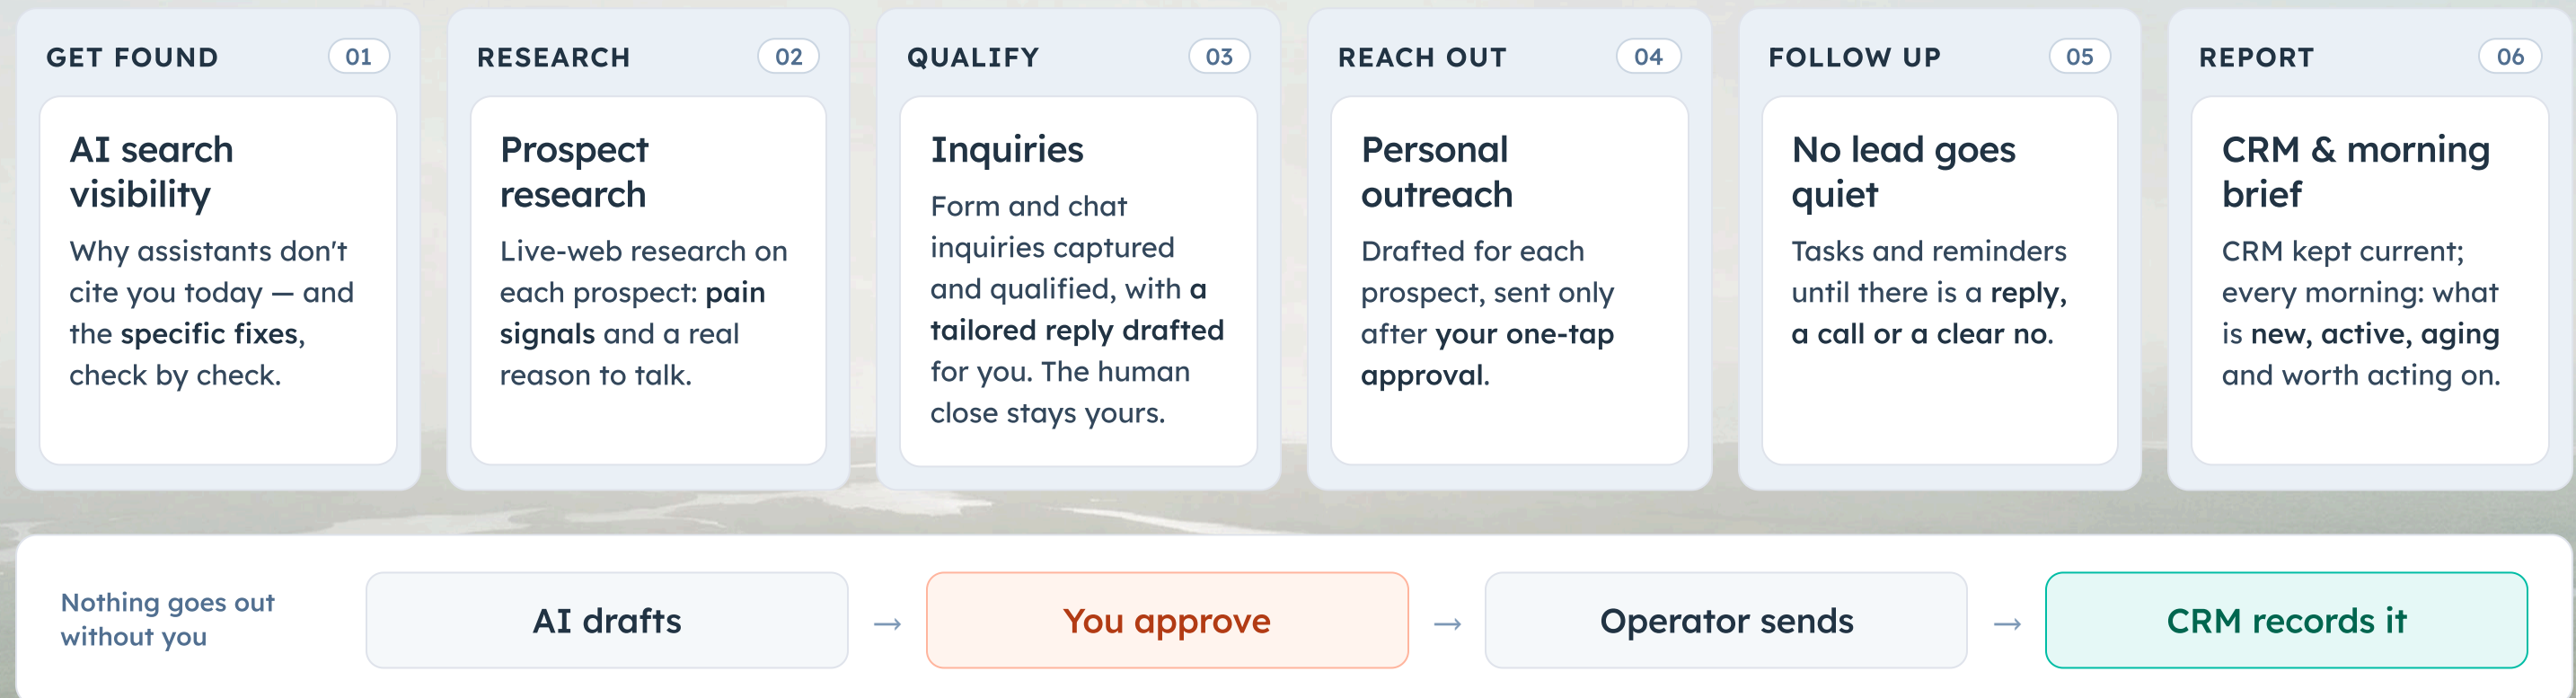

“We wake up every morning looking for your next customer.”

Why it's hard to copy

Everyone has the same AI models. The edge is orchestration — one loop that connects AI search, research, outreach, WhatsApp, follow-up and the CRM, and reports on all of it.

- What gets installed

One operator. The whole customer loop.

• Who it is designed for

Built for a buying pattern, not an industry.

A strong fit when most of these are true

- ✓ An average sale above roughly $2,000
- ✓ Leads start online; a person still closes the sale
- ✓ WhatsApp or phone is part of how you sell
- ✓ International or English-speaking clients who research first
- ✓ Margins that justify a managed growth system
- ✓ No in-house AI team already doing this

Strong early fit

Medical tourism

Patients compare clinics across borders before they ever write.

Strong early fit

Immigration & relocation

A trust business: people ask AI who to hire before they call.

Strong early fit

Dental implants & cosmetic dentistry

High value, research-heavy, often international.

Strong early fit

Luxury charters & hospitality

High ticket, WhatsApp-first, owner-operated.

Not a fit

Enterprises with large marketing teams

Restaurants & cafés

Gyms & salons

E-commerce stores

Low-ticket local services

- Proof, not promises

We run the operator on our own business first.

● How we start

Three steps. You see value before you commit.

1

Free

AI-visibility audit

See how ChatGPT, Perplexity and Claude read your business today — with the exact fixes, ranked.

Run it at aideazz.xyz/api →

2

Fixed price

Growth diagnostic

We map your path from first search to signed contract: where leads arrive, where they cool off, and what the operator would change.

Fixed scope, fixed price

3

Monthly

Install & manage

We install the modules your business needs, then run and improve the operator every month — measured in your CRM.

One package, one owner, one report

What we measure

More patients

More bookings

More consultations

More signed contracts

Buyers don't want "AI." They want customers.

Your first AI growth operator.

It finds prospects, follows up, and keeps working while you run your business.

Start with a free AI-visibility audit. We'll show you exactly where AI search and slow follow-up are costing you customers — practical either way.
